Create a National Book Token!

Your child can win a £10 National Book Token for each of their classmates – and surprise them all when schools reopen!

Encourage your children to create a fabulous National Book Token design while they're learning from home, and they could return to school with National Book Tokens for all! Whether it's our Wootton Park School logo doodled in ink, a pencil drawing of the entire class, or something completely different, enter this competition, and the National Book Tokens organisation will choose one child's design to put on a National Book Tokens gift card every week for seven weeks.

How to enter

All entries should be produced on A4 paper using the attached printable template. Complete the online entry to see where to email your scanned template <https://www.nationalbooktokens.com/create-a-national-book-token-for-your-class> (if you do not have access to a printer and/or scanner, you can take a photo of the artwork and use this editable form instead).

The competition closing date for entries is Sunday 28th June 2020.

National Book Token will pick one winner each week until the competition closes (you only need to submit an entry once for it to be considered every week!). The winners will be featured on nationalbooktokens.com and our social media channels, and their designs will be printed onto gift cards for each of their classmates when schools reopen.

When schools open up again, the young designer and their classmates will each receive a £10 National Book Token – emblazoned with the winning artwork – to inspire them to choose their next favourite book from their local bookshop.
