

The Wootton Park Extended Project – IT

Aim – To learn about coding and game design whilst also having fun

Task

This is a great opportunity to learn about coding and play at the same time.

The game is set up for younger players but there is the chance to learn about code and design your own game as you move through the levels.

Primary

With the help of a parent, sign up to an account and start exploring how to use code whilst you play this exciting game.

Secondary

Sign up and see how far through the challenges and levels you can get.

You could extend this project by researching coding on line and exploring the careers open to you if you are able to code effectively.
